PROJECT

“An In Vitro Study on the Antiurolithiatic Activity of Tribulus terrestris Linn”

In Vitro Antiurolithiatic Activity of Tribulus terrestris – Conducted an in-vitro study to evaluate the kidney stone–dissolving potential of Tribulus terrestris leaf extracts. Performed phytochemical screening and compared results with standard drug Cystone. The aqueous extract showed higher calcium oxalate dissolution, indicating strong antiurolithiatic potential.

Project Report Url:
